Public invited to meeting about Belton and Stillhouse Hollow Lakes

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at Belton and Stillhouse Hollow Lakes will hold an information exchange meeting at 3 p.m. Friday, June 22, in the conference room at the Corps' office at Belton Lake.

Corps officials will present an update on both lakes, including information about recreation programs, recent facility upgrades and current park planning projects. They will also discuss the Corps' water safety program and plans for the coming year.

All interested lake visitors, local residents and business representatives are invited to attend. For more information, call the Corps' lake office at 254-939-2461.
